Moog QuickSet and Moog Videolarm Welcome Richard Allen-Miles as Business Manager for Security Business Development in EMEA Markets

- Allen-Miles brings industry experience and local market knowledge to Moog Security Sector -

ATLANTA, Feb 16, 2012 – Moog QuickSet and Moog Videolarm, leading manufacturers of rugged security and surveillance products within the Space and Defense Division of Moog, Inc, are pleased to announce Richard Allen-Miles has joined the organization as Business Manager – Europe, Middle East, and Africa (EMEA) as of January 2012. Allen-Miles will be responsible for generating interest in the companies' surveillance solutions and increasing sales through education, training and developing programs with current and future partners and end users.

“Building on our early successes in the international market, we’ve decided to add security professionals to further develop our international presence,” said Jim Fennig, Director of Sales and Marketing for Moog QuickSet. “Richard is an excellent fit for our company and our product line, as he has extensive experience in the security industry.”

“We strategically selected Allen-Miles based on his proven success in the EMEA security market,” said Chris Lindenau, Director of Sales and Marketing, Moog Videolarm. “Similar to his previous experience working with Vicon, Allen-Miles is charged with driving new business across the Region through the development of new distribution and dealer/integrator networks, as well as through end user contacts.”

Allen-Miles is a Graduate Member of Institute of Export and has achieved NVQ level 7 in Strategic Management. Allen-Miles' background in the security industry dates back to the mid-1980's when he helped establish Mitsubishi's Security products operation in the UK. From there, he took on roles of increasing responsibility over the next 20+ years, most recently as sales director with Vicon. Allen-Miles' accomplishments include spearheading the development of the Pelco brand in the UK, the set up and management of a multi-million dollar security distribution operation for Richardson Electronics and winning large scale security and defense projects across Europe. Allen-Miles will continue to reside in the U.K with his wife and three children.
